THE SPANIARDS AND GIBRALTARS

The recent suggestion of Senior Castellar in the Spanish Cortes that Spain ought to have Gibraltar, will strike the world as eminently ration al. There is no reason why any forleign power should be allowed to own One year thy mail, 510 50 this little Andalusian promontory, which is as much a part of Smain as which is as much a part of Spain as Malrid itself. It only remains then Delivered by corrier in Rene at 25 cents per for the Spannings to take what right fally belongs to them. No power in il cope would dispute their title to tee of by about 1,000 pieces of artillery. The Moors were finally ex-Hel from the fortress by the Spancapturel by a few British sailors, nuder far George Rook, in 1794, and the most desperate and most persevering clists have been unavailing to rotake it. In 1713 it was confirmed to Great Britain by the treaty of Ulreet. The Spaniards attacked it with a large force in 1727, and in 1779 the assult was renewed by a combined French and Spanish fleet. Tois latter siege lasted three years. By June all communication between the rock and the main land was cut off, and to the following mouth the fortress was completely blockaded. The besiegers brought to bear all the resources of war, by land and sea, and their operations were directed by the ablest French and Spanish ongineers; a powerful fleet anchored in the bay, and for three weeks an incessant bombardment was kept up from eight mort ars and 200 pieces of oattering cannon. The garrison made a sortic on November 27, 1781, and destroyed the enemy's works but the allies soon reconstructed Parmers' Co-Op-rative Association, Processors, Squadia I Inchances, comer them and brought 1,000 pieces of ar-Yirgin, and spenies reets. tillers to play against the fortress, an army of 40,000 men the meanwhile be negling it by land, while forty-seven ships of the line and a great number of smaller vessels memord it by sea. Admiral Rodney laving succeeded in throwing relief into the fort by defeating the French il-et, the garrison were greatly encouraged, and, discharging red-hot shot silenced the enemy's enormous floating batteries and burned many of their ships, Nine of the batteries were set on fire. About four hundred of the crews Januar C. W., Rad Potate Agent and Collect were saved by the exercions of the tor, Virginia start. Liquid J. These little excerpts from history are not very encouraging to Spain in ber Lichman, D. & S., Chelhers, Commercial aspirations for the recovery of Gibraltar. As she has been nine years putting down the insurrection in Caba she might, perhaps, manage to recover this tortress in ninety years; for there is no knowing what may have happened to England by that Section, M., Clothing and Formishing Store, things into consideration, buwever, Virginia street. perhaps it would be best for Spain to wait until toe ninety years have passed before beginning operations. By that time she may have recovered

THE French speculator in miracles has come to grief. Last Spring two young girls of a small town in the Salisbury, N. J., Dealer in Geoccil's and department of the Munso asserted Processons, Virgina Street. that they saw the Virgin Mary in an Schaefer, Geo, star Market, Surra, near apple tree. This was looked upon as a miracle, and the field in which the apple tree stood was closed, and a chapel was creeted on the ground. Thousands of people went on a pilgrimage to the wonderful apple tree. and bought photographs of the Virgin in the tree as she was seen by the little girls. The clergy finally warned the people against the imposition, and investigation showed the whole scheme as the trick or maneuver of two sharp speculators, who proposed to trade on the credulity of the ignorant people of the district A well-known actress had stood for the photograph in a dress supposed to be suitable to the occasion, and the whole story was an invention of the speculators. The principal was sentenced to imprisonment for three years, and the Sheriff took possession of the property about the apple tree.

> THE WORLD'S DEAD .- There are millions in the grave where there are undreds out of it. Age has followed age for six thousand years, and each has contributed its quota to swell that "bourne from which no traveler returns."

From extensive calculation it seems the average of human births per see BEEF, POBE, ond since the birth of Christ to this time, is about $15, which gives 32, COLUMN ACT THE PARTS HAVING BEEN MADE present supposed population of the world (960,000,000).
